Annual Church Meeting

Dear Friends,

This year's ACM will be at St Andrews on the 5th July. Breakfast will be available as usual from 9.30am before going into worship at 10.30am.

The ACM will be part of our worship together on that day, and will be led by Sarah and I. We will be sharing together in Communion.

We will receive the Annual Report and Accounts for the year 24/25, and will have a conversation together on our ongoing work and witness. Amongst other things there will be an update on where things are at with the London Road Building conversations, and a conversation on worship at Cornerstone acknowledging the journey we have been on, which began before my time here, which sees us moving towards new worship patterns for Cornerstone, and to talk through what next steps might be.

There will also be an election of representatives to the Church Council, together with the possibility of elections of new stewards. The church needs more stewards, and if you think you are able to offer to be a steward please speak with either myself or Sarah. You will need to be nominated and seconded, but I am sure that will not be a problem. Forms will be available.

This will be the only service for Cornerstone chapels that day and so we warmly invite you to join us to worship, discuss and discern together.

Rev Clive McKie

Rev Clive McKie is retiring at the end of this Connexional year, and there will be a farewell service for him at Reigate Methodist Church on Sunday 5th July at 4pm. If you would like to sign the card for Clive, sheets of paper are available after the service. These will be gathered together and collated into a big card to be presented to Clive on 5th July. Cash donations towards a gift will be gratefully received by the stewards.

Although not everyone at this end of the circuit may have heard Clive preach, he is well known to us through his Taketime meditations, which are now available to download as a free app.
